

News from Nairobi

The children are all doing well. They are in school until 15 July. The new school calendar starts on July 25, so the boys only have 10 days to rest at home. The short break is to make up for school time lost to the coronavirus. Education is particularly important in Kenya.

Full House

The Life4Kids family has grown to 35 kids with 25 little boys living in the main house. It's crowded ... but not as crowded as this picture makes it look. Here, five of the little boys "pose" with a staff member.

Meeting with Sponsors

Our sponsors had the opportunity to meet via Zoom this past week with our Executive Director, Jane, for a better understanding of how the home operates. If you would like to join a Zoom meeting with Jane, we'll be setting up another meeting. Please contact fred@itvision.ca if you would like to be part of that Zoom meeting.

The Boys Have Chores

The boys all have duties around the house. Here 3-year-old Blessing is shining shoes. And some of the polish is actually getting on the shoes.

Sponsorship Opportunities

With new boys joining the family, we still have sponsorship opportunities. Several of our boys are sponsored by three or four families going together.

Meet Pastor Benard

Each month, we feature one of the leaders of Life4Kids. Pastor Benard Omenta Kinaro. Is Chair of the Kenya Board of Life4Kids. He was born in Nairobi and abandoned as a child. He himself grew up on the streets. He is an ordained pastor and was one of the original founders of Life4Kids. He lives outside Nairobi with his wife and 5 kids.

Message from Jane

The last word goes to our Executive Director, Jane Wasike: "I am always grateful for all the love and support. Life4kids is running everyday because of your efforts and great love. Thank you for Loving Life4Kids!!"
