

Life4Kids Canada Journal

To provide a loving home for homeless and abandoned boys in Nairobi, Kenya.

July 2025

What You Say About Supporting Life4Kids

On Thursday last week, our CEO in Kenya Jane Wasike reported: "... intense protests by the youth against the government, which have caused significant disruptions. As a result, many businesses remain closed today and insecurity is so high." We have no idea of the challenges Jane faces in running the home in Nairobi. But she carries on because of the encouragement from supporters.

We would like to share with you some testimonials from supporters explaining their support.

From Mary and John Paille: "We are so proud to be avid supporters of Life4Kids since its inception. It gives us such joy to know these children, once living in such heartbreaking, unimaginable circumstances, often without family or a safe place to sleep, can now feel the love and camaraderie of a house full of 'family'. There are just so many success stories, and we love that the intimacy and transparency of this organization allows us to see how our help specifically makes a difference without a huge chunk lost to administration fees. May God continue to bless this life-changing, miracle-working charity."

From Joan Gordon: "My husband and I have been supporting Life for Kids for many years. We had the privilege of meeting the founder of this very special home for boys, many years ago at our church. We were very impressed that it was a totally grassroots effort, and that every dollar donated went directly to the facility. Since that time, it has been gratifying to follow its growth and development, and to see the inspiring results as the boys grow and thrive. It's truly a unique opportunity to support this life changing team."

From Glenn Robitaille: "As a mental health professional, I am aware of the impact deficits in meeting the social determinants of health can have on developing children. Such things as nutrition, safe housing and community are important and set a trajectory for the whole of life. My monthly giving includes Life4Kids because I believe the Life4Kids program makes a difference for some of the most vulnerable children on earth. My contribution will never save the world, but it has the hope of changing a life. Sharing in that mission makes a lot of sense to me."

From Bets and Ray: "Canadians generally understand that we are in a privileged position in the world and that we need to help others. But how do we do that effectively? We think that large charities absorb too much of their donations in overhead - but Life4Kids supports those in need with minimal expense. We know that almost all our contribution supports the boys directly. That is worth supporting. And the communication we receive from the organization is amazing. We feel 'in the loop' when we see Jane's updates and an update on the boy we sponsor. We know we are helping!"