Messi – A Little Boy, A New Beginning

Two years old, and he has already had experiences no child should have to have.

he had already experienced circumstances no child should have to endure.

Messi did not choose his circumstances. He simply needed someone to choose him and Life4Kids did.

Recently, little Messi was found abandoned in a church near our home and brought into the care of Life4Kids Kenya. It appears he had spent time living on the streets before coming to us. When Messi arrived, he was unwell, suffering from a heavy cough and signs of a chest infection. What touched us most was the sadness in his little face. At just two years old,

Today, Messi has a safe place to call home. He is receiving nutritious meals, medical care, clothing, personal care and protection. Most importantly, he is beginning to experience the security, stability and love every child deserves. We can't change what happened to Messi before he came to us, but we can help change what happens next.

His beginning does not have to determine his future.

At Life4Kids, we see boys arrive with difficult stories and, through care, encouragement, love, and education grow into young people with confidence, and dreams. We believe that Messi deserves that same opportunity. His journey will be long, and he will need love, care, education, healthcare, guidance and support as he grows. But he no longer has to face that journey alone. From uncertainty, there can be security. From sadness, there can be joy. From abandonment, there can be belonging. From a difficult beginning, there can be hope.

Because of You ... none of this happens alone.

To our sponsors, partners and friends:

Thank you for continuing to believe that every child is worth the investment. Your support allows us to say yes when a vulnerable child needs a safe place to go. You help provide food, clothing, healthcare, education, protection and a secure home, but you also give children something even greater: the opportunity to believe in themselves and their future. Messi is only two years old, but the future we are helping to build for him will take many years of care and commitment. Your partnership makes that possible.
